Cut to the Chase
Ontario public library governance at-a-glance

Definitions

A public library board is a governing board, a legal corporation, with the authority to make policy and to govern the library’s affairs under the Public Libraries Act, RSO 1990, c. P.44.

Governing
is different from managing. A board doesn’t run an organization but ensures that it is properly run.

Governance
is the entire framework set by the board to direct the organization, that identifies how a board will conduct business, how power will be divided and delegated and what processes will be set up to achieve accountability.

Ten principles guiding effective library governance

- Build a solid governance framework that includes by-laws, policy and an achievable plan that is based on why you exist: your mission.
- When you’ve built it, make sure it works and keep it in shape.
- Know who you are there to represent and how to connect with them.
- Make good decisions on their behalf.
- Know what it is that you need to achieve.
- Assess what you have accomplished and report progress regularly.
- Know what information you need and where and how to get it in order to manage risk.
- Know who you need on the board and who you need to run the library.
- Know where and how to get the resources you need.
- Remember, you are not there to manage – you are there to govern.

The Board’s authority

3 Major Responsibilities

1. A board’s duty is to provide comprehensive and efficient public library service that reflects its community’s unique needs.
2. A board must submit budget estimates to municipal council and participate in the municipality’s annual audit that includes boards.
3. To receive its annual grants from the Government of Ontario, a board is required to submit statistics and financial information along with a completed public library operating and pay equity grants application form to the province each year.

The Public Libraries Act, RSO 1990, c. P.44 governs the operation of public libraries in Ontario and is specific legislation that can override certain sections of other more general acts such as the Municipal Act.

A library board is an independent body and cannot become a committee of council without legislation being passed that enables this.

Membership

- Members are appointed by municipal council according to rules set out in the Act.
- Minimum size for a library board is five members.
- The number of municipal councillors on a library board may not exceed one less than the majority; a county board may have a bare majority of councillors.
- Library or municipal employees may not be board members.

Fiduciary duty

As a member of a library board, your fiduciary duty is to act honestly and in good faith and in the best interests of the library. This means that the interests of the library take precedence over your personal interests or those of any other group with which you are associated.

Meeting requirements

The Public Libraries Act, RSO 1990, c. P.44:

- Board shall hold regular meetings once a month for at least 10 months each year and at such other times as it considers necessary.
- Meetings are open to the public.
- Majority of members must be present.
- Chair may vote with other members.
- Tie vote is deemed to be negative.

Municipal integration

Ontario public libraries enjoy varying levels of integration with their municipalities. One library may operate with separate financial policies and processes, while another may simply adopt its municipality’s policies. Many boards have forged closer ties with their municipality to maximize their effectiveness and to collaborate in achieving common goals. While the library board is an independent body and responsible for directing the disbursement of library funds, it can be advantageous to align agendas and streamline business processes with its municipality. Both the library and the municipality serve the same public and address issues common to both bodies.

Cut to the Chase is a quick reference guide on public library governance in Ontario and the library board’s fundamental responsibilities for achieving effective leadership and sound governance. It serves as the foundation document in OLBA’s Leadership by Design – a primary resource for library trustees to find the information and make the connections they need to strengthen their capacity as key decision-makers in their communities.

Power to oversee the library’s finances

Financial oversight involves:
- Understanding the implications of a budget and a financial report;
- Recognizing if the allocation of monies aligns with board priorities;
- Ensuring that financial policies are in place to control receiving, processing and disbursing money, to ensure fiscally-sound budgeting, to comply with current municipal legislation with respect to purchasing and hiring, to manage risks, and to limit liability to the library and the board.

Financial oversight does not mean…
- Simply approving a budget or financial report;
- Approving a cheque register;
- Challenging a miniscule amount on a budget line.

Power to make policy

Policies provide the necessary framework for all of the operations and priorities of the library and allow for a smooth transition from old to new boards. Library policies include:
- Advocacy
- Children’s services
- Circulation
- Collection development
- Community information
- Customer service
- Facilities use
- Internet use
- Personnel and hiring*
- Purchasing*
- Volunteers
- Youth Services

Policies must be framed within the limitations set out in government legislation and regulations. * Required under the Municipal Act.

Power to set fees
The Public Libraries Act, RSO 1990, c. P.44, sec.23 (1-3) ALLOWS a board to charge for:
- use of parts of the library building not being used for library purposes;
- library services for non-residents;
- some services not outlined in Regulations.
A board is NOT permitted to charge for:
- admission to the library;
- using library materials in the library;
- reserving or borrowing circulating materials specified in Regulations.

Power to hire the CEO
The Public Libraries Act, RSO 1990, c. P.44 gives a library board the sole right to hire the library’s chief executive officer.

Conflict of Interest
A library board member must disclose any direct, indirect or deemed pecuniary interest prior to consideration of any matter. Once the interest is disclosed, the member is prohibited from participating in the decision-making process.

Standard of care
A library board member is required to carry out his or her duties with the same care and attention that would reasonably be expected from someone of his or her knowledge or experience.

FINANCE

Leadership

The stakeholders of today’s libraries expect strong leadership. Modern governance must reach beyond budget oversight and a regular strategic planning exercise. A library board must embrace new ideas, probe its basic values and raison d’être and forge relationships to generate a comprehensive and efficient service that reflects its community’s unique needs.

To be an effective board member…

1. Know your job.
2. Be open to continuous learning.
3. Recognize that only the board has the authority to act on behalf of the library; individual board members have no authority to act on their own.
4. Share in the responsibility for the effective functioning of the board by ensuring full discussion of issues and making reasoned decisions.
5. Build your knowledge and understanding of the broader library community.
